Bennett's campaign website highlighted the following issues:

> • Improve our public schools Our children are our future. Oklahoma children must graduate ready to compete with graduates from others states like Texas, but also internationally, with graduates from countries like China and India. In order for our children to be successful in life, and to ensure that our economy thrives, we must make sure that every Oklahoma child has access to a quality education. That means making sure our teachers are paid a living wage, so they can focus on the job of teaching our children instead of worrying about how they will pay their bills, or raising teacher pay to a level that is competitive not only with other states in our region, but the entire country. Too many teachers are working two or three jobs just to live. We shouldn't be okay with that. It's time to prioritize our children and our teachers.
> • Strengthen our neighborhoods A great city is defined by great neighborhoods. We must continue to invest in public infrastructure like sidewalks, parks, roads, and bridges. A great neighborhood also means a safe neighborhood. From police and fire services, to protecting our property values, we should make our Oklahoma City neighborhoods a priority. This also means rethinking our criminal justice system. Keeping

Scorecards

See also State legislative scorecards and State legislative scorecards in Oklahoma

A scorecard evaluates a legislator's voting record. Its purpose is to inform voters about the legislator's political positions. Because scorecards have varying purposes and methodologies, each report should be considered on its own merits. For example, an advocacy group's scorecard may assess a legislator's voting record on one issue while a state newspaper's scorecard may evaluate the voting record in its entirety.

Ballotpedia is in the process of developing an encyclopedic list of published scorecards. Some states have a limited number of available scorecards or scorecards produced only by select groups. It is Ballotpedia's goal to incorporate all available scorecards regardless of ideology or number.
