Scorecards

See also: Ballotpedia's scorecard and Ballotpedia's interest groups ratings

A scorecard is a tool used by interest groups and others to inform voters about the legislator's political position. Because most scorecards are not nonpartisan and methodologies vary, each report should be considered on its own merits. For example, an anti-abortion group's scorecard may assess Ballotpedia's voting record on one issue while a state chamber of commerce's scorecard may assess it on a dozen issues.

Ballotpedia is the only source for tracking an entire group's records for all published scorecards. Some states have limited number of available scorecards or scorecards produced only by select groups. If a Ballotpedia goal is to incorporate all scorecards for all legislators in all 50 states and DC.

Click here for an example of a scorecard, or click here for a scorecard for all 50 states. Contribute to the list of Texas scorecards, email suggestions to editor@ballotpedia.org.
