Scorecards

See also: State legislative scorecards and State legislative scorecards in Alaska

A scorecard evaluates a legislator's voting record. Its purpose is to inform voters about the legislator's political positions. Because scorecards have varying purposes and methodologies, each report should be considered on its own merits. For example, an advocacy group's scorecard may assess a legislator's voting record on one issue while a pro-business newspaper's scorecard may evaluate the voting record in its entirety.

Ballotpedia's goal is to provide a neutral, comprehensive collection of scorecards. Some states have a limited number of scorecards, while others have dozens. Ballotpedia's goal is to select groups in a balanced manner and make available scorecards regardless of ideology or number.
