CONCORD, N.H. — A season of turnover is underway at the State House as longtime state Sen. Bob Giuda, R-Warren, is announcing his retirement and endorsing state Rep. Tim Lang, R-Sanbornton, to replace him.

Giuda has represented District 2, which includes parts of Merrimack, Belknap and Grafton counties, since 2016 and is known as one of the more outspoken and conservative members of the Senate.

If Lang succeeds Giuda, he's likely to take a similar ideological tack. The three-term lawmaker has emerged as a leading advocate in Concord against vaccine mandates, sponsoring several pieces of legislation.

"When I first ran for the State House, I wanted to be a strong voice for my constituents and stand up for the principles that make New Hampshire great: our 'Live Free or Die' spirit and a hands-off approach to governance," Lang said. "I believe that I have stood true to those principles, and now, I hope to bring them to the state Senate."
